

Room151

Room151's Monthly Online Treasury Briefing

Friday 30th September 2022, 10:30-11:50

Public sector delegate register here

Macroeconomic overview & affording net-zero

AGENDA

10:30 Introduction

Mike Thatcher, Editorial Director, Room151

10:30 Macroeconomics update and investment markets outlook

Heather Lamont, director, client investments, CCLA

10:50 A fixed Income solution for your net-zero ambitions

Many investors have set ambitious net-zero targets and are looking for solutions to help them meet their goals. In this session, Iain Buckle, from Aegon Asset Management, considers an approach and framework for identifying climate transition risks and actively managing climate change in short dated and broader fixed income portfolios. He'll also look at how an investment in a Short Dated Climate Transition strategy can help reduce the carbon intensity and climate risk in your fixed income portfolio without compromising on investment returns.

Iain Buckle, head of credit UK, Aegon Asset Management

11:10: The finance panel: Affording net-zero – how is local government responding to the climate emergency and funding their carbon neutral ambitions?

With most councils declaring a climate emergency, but increasing pressures on local authority budgets, our panel of experts discuss the challenges of meeting net-zero targets.

Panellists:

Joseph Holmes, executive director of resources, West Berkshire Council

Ryan Jude, programme director, green taxonomy, Green Finance Institute

Stephanie Mitchener, director of finance, Essex County Council

11:50 Close of Webinar

As always there is plenty of opportunity to send in the questions you would like to see discussed either before or during the briefing.

Sponsored by...

If your colleagues wish to join us: register here